Programmes for Transferable Skills and Guidance (former Work-Related Learning)

The University runs Programmes for Transferable Skills and Guidance (PCTO) for 3rd, 4th and 5th year secondary school students. Projects are jointly agreed by secondary schools and the hosting university structures involved. These programmes allow students to acquire or improve, in close connection with their learning results, the typical competencies of the degree programme they have chosen and transferable skills, enabling them to make conscious choices regarding the world of work and/or to continue their education at a higher level. PCTOs require multi-annual prospective planning, coherent with the school's Programme Catalogue Three-Year Plan. The Work-Related Learning Office provides administrative and educational support to the University with a co-planning approach.

Job Placement Unibo App

The new Job Placement App is designed to keep up to date with the events that the University of Bologna organises to put students and graduates in contact with the world of work. The App allows to acquire useful information about the main companies taking part in the recruiting initiatives, save the favourites, find out about skill sets in demand, introduction methods, websites and contact details to send applications. Information on previous initiatives and their participants remain available to be consulted.

From A.Y. 2017/18, all students pay fees based on their ISEE: www.unibo.it/tasse consult the page to find out how and when to input the ISEE (Economic Condition Indicator) in order to calculate the fee. ISEE applications can be submitted online for free, independently from the enrolment in a Degree Programme.

Pay attention to the deadlines, as late submissions will not be accepted, even if the enrolment deadline has not expired yet. The University of Bologna and ER.GO (Regional Authority for the Right to Higher Education) support the right to higher education via calls for applications for benefits and assistance based on income and merit.

ER.GO Benefits

www.er-go.it/eng

ER.GO - Regional Authority for the Right to Higher Education helps students support themselves through university with scholarships, accommodation, luncheon vouchers, subsidies for international mobility, extraordinary interventions, and interventions in favour of disabled students. Every year (usually in July), the website www.er-go.it publishes calls for applications to assign benefits to students based on income and merit. It is important to note that deadlines for benefit applications are different from deadlines for degree programme enrolment and ISEE certificate submission (for tax relief/reduction). To apply for benefits students do not have to be already enrolled at University. First year students have access to benefits based exclusively on their economic situation but will have to confirm scholarship deservingness based on merit. Students enrolled in years following the first access benefits based on economic and merit criteria (credits earned up until 10 August). Merit evaluation criteria will be explained in the calls for applications. Special attention must be paid to the provisions for transfers from one university, or one degree programme, to another.

Important information for obtaining benefits

Usually, calls for applications are published at the beginning of July and include the deadlines by which students must apply for the different benefits (scholarships, accommodation, etc.).
NOTE: deadlines are mandatory.

Every year, starting in February, students can log into the ER.GO-Servizi Online website and enter their ISEE valid for the year in question.

Benefit applications will have to be submitted once the calls for applications are published.

You may contact ER.GO even before July 2021 for information about any changes in how to apply for benefits.

Transfers from another University or change of degree programme: the assessment of merit is made with reference to the first year of matriculation, regardless of the course year in which the student is registered. This might result in the loss of benefits. Please read carefully the ER.GO calls for applications.

www.unibo.it/AgevolazioniEconomiche | www.er-go.it

Benefits for international students

The University offers study grants and waivers to international students based on merit (Unibo action 1 and Unibo action 2). Awards are made following calls for applications that are published from January onwards for matriculation in the following academic year.
