

Dr. Holger Thüs

Education

2001 – PhD (Dr phil. nat.) Botany, Goethe-University Frankfurt/M.

1997 – Diploma (Biology) University of Mainz

Career

Since 2017 Curator & Research Scientist (Fungi - incl. lichenised taxa -, Anthoceroophyta, Marchantiophyta, Bryophyta, "Algae"), State Museum of Natural History Stuttgart (STU)

2016-2017 Senior Curator in Charge (Lichens, Myxogastria & Bryophytes), The Natural History Museum, London Aug. 2013 _ 2015, Senior Curator, The Natural History Museum, London

2008 – 2013 Curator, Lichens & Myxogastria, The Natural History Museum, London

2007 – 2008 Scientist (Curation) State Museum of Natural History Karlsruhe

2007 – 2008 Research Scientist (Associate), Technical University Kaiserslautern

2003 – 2007 Research Scientist (Postdoc), Technical University Kaiserslautern

2002 Scientist (Curation) Senckenberg Museum Frankfurt/M.

Areas of research

Taxonomy, biogeography and ecology of lichenised Fungi and Algae, bio-indication, amphibious lichens, conservation ecology.

Field Work expertise

Austria, Costa Rica, Czech Republic, France, Malaysia, Germany, Iceland, Italy, Slovakia, Switzerland, United Kingdom, Venezuela.

Website and publications:

<https://www.naturkundemuseum-bw.de/en/research/botany/departement-botany/holger-thues>