

Giulia Bencini CV

Education

2002	Ph.D. in Linguistics, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign, Illinois, USA.
1997	Graduate MA Certification Program, Cognitive Science, 1997, Institute for Cognitive Science, University of Colorado, Boulder, Colorado, USA.
1993	Laurea Degree, Modern Languages and Literatures, University of Florence, Italy.

Positions

2019–present	Co-founder and director of Bembolab, Department of Linguistics and Comparative Cultural Studies, Ca' Foscari University, Venice, Italy Activities: initial set up and direction of a departmental for experimental research in language and cognition
2017–2018	Visiting Professor, Alpen-Adria Universität, Klagenfurt, Austria Activities: teaching psycholinguistics course
2015–present	Associate Professor, Department of Linguistics and Comparative Cultural Studies, Ca' Foscari University, Venice, Italy Activities: research in first and second language acquisition representation and use; language representation and use in aphasia and in dementia; inclusive education; undergraduate and graduate teaching and research supervision
2012–2014	Co-founder, Hunter College Aphasia Project: Conversational Groups, Research, Advocacy for people with aphasia. Center for Communicative Disorders, Hunter College, City University of New York, NY
2014–2015	Associate Professor, Department of Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology, School of Health Sciences, Hunter College, City University of New York, New York Activities: research in first and second language acquisition; language and communication in aphasia; graduate teaching and research supervision
2012–2013	IRCCS San Camillo Rehabilitation Hospital, Venice, Italy Activities: research on telerehabilitation in post-stroke aphasia
2008–2014	Assistant Professor, Department of Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology (formerly Communication Sciences Program), Hunter College, City University of New York, NY, NY. Activities: research in first and second language acquisition; cross-linguistic neurolinguistics; graduate teaching and research supervision
2004–2007	Post-doctoral Research Fellow, Department of Psychology, Hunter College, City University of New York, NY Activities: research in first and second language acquisition; RA supervision
2004	Adjunct Professor, Department of Psychology, Hunter College, City University of New York, NY
2003	Visiting scientist, Department of Psychology, University of Trieste, Italy Activities: research on language production in Italian speakers with aphasia, healthy older adults and speakers with dementia
2002–2003	Post-doctoral Research Associate, Psychology Department, New York University, NY Activities: research in sentence processing

Research interests: first and second language acquisition; cross-linguistic psycholinguistics and neurolinguistics; linking theories of competence with theories of language processing; formal vs. functional approaches; universal design and inclusive education; language rehabilitation and telerehabilitation.

Relevant Teaching Experience: English and general linguistics; psycholinguistics; neurolinguistics; early language development; experimental research methods in linguistics and psycholinguistics.

Administrative Experience –Ca' Foscari (CF), Hunter College, City University of New York (HC):

CF: 2021-present: member of the steering committee (direttivo) CNUDD, Italian University Network of Rector's Delegates for Students with disabilities and specific learning impairments; 2019-present: Director of Bembolab, experimental research laboratory; 2016- present: Rector's Delegate for students with disabilities and specific learning impairments; 2017-present: language science curriculum committee member; 2017–2022 member of the governance committee, department of excellence project; 2017–2022.

HC: 2008–2014: graduate admissions committee member; 2012–2012 Co-founder, Hunter College Aphasia Project: Conversational Groups, Research, Advocacy for people with aphasia. Center for Communicative Disorders, Hunter College, City University of New York, NY.