

CURRICULUM VITAE

JAMES LAWRIE NEWELL

EDUCATION / QUALIFICATIONS

- |           |  |
|-----------|--|
| 1970-1977 | Shene Grammar School, London SW14. Nine Ordinary Level passes (1975); three Advanced Level passes in History, Economics and English Literature (1977).   |
| 1978-1981 | University of East Anglia, Norwich. BA (with First Class Honours) in Sociology (1981).   |
| 1982-1984 | London School of Economics and Political Science. MSc in Sociology (1984). Course components included: Sociology of Work; a short dissertation on Marx's concept of ideology; Methods of Social Research. The latter involved the designing of a research project aimed at discovering the effects of strike-involvement on miners' images of the class structure.   |
| 1984-1991 | European University Institute, Florence, Italy. PhD thesis entitled 'Labourism, Ideology and the British Middle Class' successfully defended April 1991. The thesis attempts to explain the conditions under which the British middle class will vote Labour. Based on a secondary analysis of British Election Study and British Social Attitudes data, it employs techniques of multivariate analysis to provide evidence for the hypothesis that the extent of Labour's middle-class support is a function of the ideological beliefs electors hold. Thesis supervisors: Prof. I. Budge, Dept. of Government, University of Essex; Prof. G. Esping-Anderson, Dept. of Political and Social Sciences, European University Institute. |
