I am an Italian critical anthropologist and social worker that lives and researches in the Netherlands. Experienced 7 years in the field - in Italy and the Netherlands - I have been working with migrants and minority communities in different contexts and from different perspectives. I like to apply holistic methods to social research, and I have been studying migration processes starting from my own experience, following the phenomenological method (Heidegger, Merleau-Ponty, Heisemberg, Olivier de Sardan, Piasere). I identify: 1) as an Italian, highly educated, LGBTQI+, and economic migrant - belonging to the middle-class in Italy, but to the lower-class in the Netherlands (Berstein, Bourdieu); 2) as a white anthropologist dipped in an Industry-University context (Illich, Bourdieu); 3) as white social worker that notices stigmas (Goffman) and embodied, historical racist practices of colleagues and institutions, which are characteristic by a (post)colonial contemporaneity (El-Tyeb, Soumahoro, Abu-Lughod, Fanon, Sartre, Sayad, Spivak, Davis, Appadurai, Sassen, Balibar, Agamben, Bourgois, Wacquant, Ginzburg). From my perspective, the researching about migration processes can't be focussed exclusively on migrant's practices. In my research, the intersectional expression and development of global structural violence (Farmer) has a fundamental role in showing the ambivalent - and sometimes contradictory - entanglements in between global and local realities (Lévi-Strauss, Kilani, Matthijsen). I am not part of the Academia because I think that we failed as knowledge producers in being capable of sculpturing a better society. My idea of scholarship and research would be to break the instituted order of things (Duglas, Foucault, Carpini) that since the beginning of human society has perpetrated violence in time and space. Only in this way we can promote civil disobedience for having one day social equality and justice (Arendt, Wilkinson, Pickett).

POLITICAL ACTIONS

Aug. 2023 – Sept. 2024 (Netherlands)

General Pardon - Petition and Nationwide Demonstration

The Campaign is part of the political movement "Pathway to Redemption". The Campaign is needed to establish General pardon for all "rejected asylum seekers and all immigrants residing in the Nederland for minimum of 5 years, including Ex-Dutch surinamese since their independence 1975 and Aged above 55 years old, been in limbo over 15 years". We are now at a point in time where asylum seekers who get rejected are living without rights sometimes for decades long in the Netherlands. As the Dutch parliament has fallen, this is the time to push for a general pardon campaign to make sure the people who are living without rights and the 'right' documents in the Netherlands will get their status. During this program we will talk together with the Afrikaanse Vluchtelingen Collectief, politicians and grassroots organisations on how to make sure we can move together into action towards the national wide demonstration on September 15th.
