

CLARA DUBLANC

Short biography

Clara Dublanc is a cultural producer working at the intersection of visual arts and a rights-based approach to cultural participation. Her work focuses on mobility, diversity of cultures and social justice. With background in political science she is the founder of Itinerant Works, a creative production studio that has developed over the last decade large scale contemporary art projects worldwide. She is trustee to Queercircle and advisor to Counterpoint Arts.