Sector competition reference 03/A2 - Models and Methods For Chemistry, Scientific sector CHIM/02 - Physical Chemistry.

Each job is activated for the needs of research and study of the Department of Chemistry "Giacomo Ciamician" - CHIM of the Alma Mater Studiorum - Università di Bologna. Serving primarily service at the Department Chemistry "Giacomo Ciamician" - CHIM in Bologna.

Each contract shall last three years. An annual gross total amount equal to € 34.898,00. The annual increase in this amount will be calculated according to the existing procedure for non-contracted personnel.

Art. 2 – Activities to be performed

Each contract includes 350 hours of supplementary teaching and assistance to students, for each academic year covered by the contract. The contract shall schedule 12 hours of teaching on annual basis.

Concerning the provisions of art. 10 regarding fixed term researchers, issued by Rectoral Decree no. 344 of 29/03/2011 and amendments, the researcher's activities must be linked to the development of the 2 project:

-Project 1: "Micrometric characterization of cell / functional material interfaces", financed within the EU project HORIZON 2020 FETOPEN 2018-2020 LION_HEARTED (Job Reference Number: 82898).

The research activity is part of the European project Horizon 2020 FETOPEN 2018-2020 Lion_hearted Light and Organic Nanotechnology for Cardiovascular Disease. In the project light-stimulated (nano)materials will be used to favor the recovery of myocardial damage; in this context the physical-chemical characterization of the interaction between light-stimulated materials and the cells and the proteins constituting heart tissue is necessary. Consistently, the research will be aimed at the characterization of material / cell interfaces and of the interaction between light-stimulated materials and the cells of the cardiac tissue, by using scanning electrochemical microscopy (SECM), electrochemical methods and chemical-physical techniques. In general, the activity involves the chemical-physical characterization of biological substrates and the further development of these techniques. To carry out these research activities it is also necessary to manipulate biological samples.

The scientific productivity objectives over the three-year period will be: i) the collaborative publications of at least 6 papers in peer-reviewed scientific journals; ii) active participation in at least 3 congresses, workshops, national or international meetings (presenting posters and / or oral communications).

-Project 2: "Dynamical processes in chemistry".

The project aims at the development and exploitation of innovative computational tools to analyze dynamic aspects of experimental spectroscopic processes and measurements or of molecular dynamics, both atomistic and coarse grained, obtained by computer simulations. Emphasis will be given to the development of general protocols and their application

The research activity must be aimed at obtaining a high academic profile that includes publication of articles in high impact international journals. At the end of the three-year period at least 8 papers must be published or being in press in journals that belong to the first quartile in at least one of the ISI categories. In the case of publications of articles in journals of particular relevance (such as Science, Nature or others of equivalent reputation), the number of published papers may be decreased if necessary. The results of the research activity must be presented at international forums and the researcher must actively and continuously participate in the research activities of the department

-Project 3: "New-Generation Nanostructured Materials", financed partially by Prin 2017 funds, and partially by the European program H2020 FETOPEN 2018-2020 LION-HEARTED.

The project aims at the development and application of computational tools able to simulate the interactions of new nanostructured materials with complex environments in order to improve their impact in nanotechnology, biology, biosensing, and nanomedicine. Emphasis will be given to materials that show promise for their sustainability, biocompatibility, biodegradability

The research activity must be aimed at obtaining a high academic profile that includes publication of articles in high impact international journals. At the end of the three-year period at least 8 papers must be published or being in press in journals that belong to the first quartile in at least one of the ISI categories. In the case of publications of articles in journals of particular relevance (such as Science, Nature or others of equivalent reputation), the number of published papers may be decreased if necessary. The results of the research activity must be presented at international forums and the researcher must actively and continuously participate in the research activities of the department.
