Communication skills

Good team working skills. My studies required me to hold presentations and group works. Thanks to my experiences abroad and my work experience, I am able to interact with people from different cultures and backgrounds and to examine many different points of views. Additionally, I improved my intercultural skills and capacity to deal with large audience.

Excellent communication and managerial abilities as team coordinator. Good verbal communication. Being the student representative in my Master I broaden my mediating capacity as well as my capacity to communicate both with my work colleagues and with professors. Able to communicate complex information to individuals and groups.

Organizational skills I am reliable, independent and efficient when working alone. At the same time, I enjoy being active and collaborative in teamwork. I am able to work under pressure and I consider my self as a fast-learner.
